There is no change in the method or substance of the collection. The overall decrease in burden hours is a result of decreases in the estimated number of respondents. On June 3, 2022, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the FDIC (the Agencies) published a proposal to amend the Agencies' Community Reinvestment Act regulations.¹ The agencies are expecting comments from the industry and other concerned parties which will be considered and addressed when a final rule is issued. The FDIC does not wish to discontinue this information collection while the proposed revisions are

The information collected is used to facilitate early

Form Number: None.

Affected Public: Businesses or other for-profits.

Burden Estimate:

Information Collection Description	Type of Burden	Estimated Number of Respondents	Estimated Number of Responses per Respondent	Estimated Time per Response (Hours)	Estimated Annual Burden (Hours)
Paragraph 14 – Strategies, policies, procedures, and risk tolerances	Recordkeeping (Voluntary)	3,128	1	83.94	262,564

In addition, the Interagency Statement encourages the use of liquidity risk reports that provide detailed and aggregate information on items such as cash flow gaps, cash flow projections, assumptions used in cash flow projections, asset and funding concentrations, funding availability, and early warning or risk indicators. This is intended to enable management to assess an institution's sensitivity to changes in market conditions, the institution's financial performance, and other important risk factors. There is no change in the method or substance of the collection. The overall reduction in burden hours is the result of economic fluctuation. In particular, the number of respondents
